Graduation Blues???

Do you remember walking through those doors three years ago??? Never thinking it would go so fast? It seems like yesterday. Three years of homework, exams, games, clubs, and as always, those teachers. We always wished that graduation day would come quickly, but now that it's here, I think we want to stay.

Senior Year?

It seems like you wait forever to be a Senior, then it's here and then it's gone. I always thought Senior Year would be special, and it was! I became closer to my classmates and realized we were all on the same road—the road to success. The class of 1988 has so many special people that made a difference in me. I'm slowly becoming aware that the end is near and we must say goodbye, but not forever, just for now. Thanks for the memories!!!

-VICTORY-

We have had many victories, in the Senior class. Our football players have been in three city series football championships and won all three. Many of us have excelled academically and some of us have matured. All in all, we've gotten through it. We have one more obstacle to tackle and we will have obtained the biggest thrill of victory, OUR DIPLOMAS. GO SENIORS!!!

The Real World

Well, it's here and I have a lot of mixed emotions. I am relieved and looking forward to getting into the real world, but yet, there's this feeling inside that I never thought I would have—of all people. It's that I really don't want to leave. I want to do it all over again.

I'm happy that I'm graduating soon, but I'm also going to miss high school a lot. We had many great times, and it's pretty hard to swallow the fact that you may never see some of your friends again. Some feel that after graduation it's all over. For me, I'm just beginning, and I can't wait to go to college and see what I get myself into next! After 12 years, it's all paid off ... all of the waiting, homework, good times, and bad have come to a close. As we take our separate roads after graduation, I will always remember the friendships, the good times, as well as the bad, the laughter heard over the cries. My years at Garfield have been great ones and if I had to do it over, I wouldn't have changed a thing. Good-bye

OUR PAST THREE YEARS AS RAMS,
WILL LONG BE ON OUR MINDS,
BUT NO ONE KNOWS WHAT LIES AHEAD,
FOR 88'S CLASS TO FIND.
OUR LAST YEAR SEEMS SO SPECIAL,
HOW TIME FLIES WITH THE FUN,
BUT FRIENDS WE CHERISH DEARLY,
EACH KNOW OUR TIME HAS COME.
TO LET GO OF THE APRON STRINGS,
LEAVE WHAT'S BEEN TAUGHT SO LONG.
IT'S TIME FOR US TO TRY OUR WINGS,
USE WHAT'S BEEN TAUGHT SO LONG.
SO GARFIELD HIGH SCHOOL ALWAYS
OUR PROUD MAROON AND GOLD,
YOUR MEM'RIES WITH US KNOW,
WILL REMAIN THROUGH ALL OUR DAYS.

'88 Womanhood

Shelley Kern

During my years at Garfield High School, I have enjoyed meeting and working with the staff and students. Through my many activities, such as softball, basketball, and various clubs, I have been associated with students and learned to work as a team, as well as an individual.

When I am on the softball field or sitting in the classroom, I am always giving 110 percent, not only for myself, but also for the honor of Garfield High School. My grades and devotion to sports reflects the pride I have in myself and in my school.

Education has always been an important part of my life and Garfield has made it more enjoyable. My future plans are to continue my education in college and to obtain a degree in Elementary Education. The most rewarding part of my life would be to help others as they have helped me. My parents have taught me to work hard, no matter how tough things may get. They have also taught me to respect people, regardless of the circumstances.

I have always been able to get along with everyone. I hope that I represent myself as well as all the young ladies at Garfield High School with the award of Womanhood.

I can remember when I first came to Garfield, there was a saying on the wall of the auditorium. I will never forget and live by. It was, "Enter to learn; Leave to serve." I feel Garfield High School is a school "that strives for excellence."

Shelley Kern

Garfield is a school of many opportunities, vocational or college prep."

"My advice to the underclassmen is to be the best in whatever you do."

"If there's one thing that I never expected to be voted for . . . it is the Manhood Award."

Keys to success . . . discipline, leadership, and friendliness toward others."

My contributions to Garfield revolve around the music scene. It all started (sounds like a grandfather, huh?) back when I was a sophomore. I joined the choir, mixed ensemble, and the boys' ensemble. At that time, I didn't play in the jazz band, because they already had a bass player and I didn't know anything about the guitar . . . absolutely nothing. I learned!!

But, I was content with the choir. Miss Schlub saw something in me . . . or perhaps not liking me, I'm not sure which, pushed me harder than the others. I went to contest for a vocal solo and I went to contest with the choir in many levels. We received high marks then, as we did in all three years that I competed. I co-wrote the spring show every year and I feel that this gained me respect from Miss Schlub and from my fellow choir members.

All of the hard work that I put into training for these different contests has given me the self-discipline and leadership to be the best at any goal I wish to conquer.

Also, Jenene Reiter has given me my stability. Friends are another very important part of my makeup. Without her, being there every step of the way, I could not have done it.

We asked a few seniors about their last "football" year. Here are some responses:
Norman Smith—I've played four exciting, bone-crushing years for Garfield High. I loved every minute. I wish the returning players the best of luck, remember—winning isn't a destination . . . it's a journey.
Delvin Pickett—When I think of the city-champs title, I think of the words dedication, courage, commitment, friendship, and pride because these are the true rewards you get from playing football for Garfield.
Mike Curley—I'm very proud to have been a part of the team which did what no other team has yet to achieve in city series history.

Juniors

When we asked Juniors what they were looking forward to next year, they replied: Tami Mastrojohn—having more wild times, getting that diploma in my hand and getting the bleep out of here!

Angela Carter—Volleyball season and just having the greatest Senior year.

Noel Walters—lots of fun times and next year's sports, especially volleyball.

Lisa Hughes—getting out of school at 11:30 and being a Senior finally.

Tracy Jenkins—Knowing it's the last year here and all the good times we'll have.

Frank Taormina—having more privileges as a senior and most of all my last year playing baseball.

Jamie Byrne—GRADUATION!!!

Denise Corall—Finishing cross country season without any injuries

Tony Ferguson—My 18th birthday on March 13, 1989 . . . I get a Porsche.

Until A Yearbook Deadline

"I like this picture of me . . . No, maybe this one."

"Hey, just what do you think you are doing?"

WHY WE JOINED YEARBOOK?

I wanted to make sure that the orchestra got the attention they deserved and to be involved with school activities during my SENIOR YEAR! Sherilyn Gray

. . . Don't disturb me now; I have a deadline! Amy Abdallah

I thought it would be neat to help put the yearbook together, also, because I get the chance to work with my friends——Susan Bryant.

I wanted to see how a yearbook was put together and see if it was as much fun as everyone said it was . . . It is!!! Jennifer Fry

DRAFTING

The Drafting vocation had many accomplishments last year. The senior class set up a store and sold supplies to juniors. They hoped to save enough money to go to NASA. They also tried to organize a trade fair between the other vocations at GHS.

When asked about Drafting, many students gave thoughts. Tony Price was drafting a new locker room storage for the downstairs lockers at Garfield. David Reymann said the class was challenging. "It's not too bad being in a class with all of these guys," replied Debi Buckwalter.

Mike Stone commented, "We've been together for two years so we get along pretty well." Phil Jandrokovic said the juniors made drawings of different machinery. Dan Cox liked Drafting because he enjoyed art. Kara Diver took Drafting because she wanted to become an architect. Scott Gangle planned on going to college and becoming an engineer. Drafting is taught by Mr. Gindlesberger, seniors, and Mr. Goudy, juniors.

COSMETOLOGY

The Cosmetology girls were hard to get a hold of last year, yet we managed to catch up for a moment.—Rachel Ruhlin took Cosmetology because it seemed interesting. Tracy Stalnaker had always wanted to cut hair. Dana Goins thought learning in Cosmetology was easy because people could pick things up easily. Dyann Liber took Cosmetology because she liked to do different things to her hair. Tammy Mace planned on going to college and owning her own business one day. Shelley Cuffman took the class because she liked to work with hair and socialize with people. Cosmetology is taught by Mrs. Rossetti, seniors, and Mrs. Petty, juniors.

Machine Trades

When the Senior Machine Trades class, taught by Mr. Mihalko, was asked what made them choose this class their replies varied.

Mike Dean chose a trade because he enjoys working with his hands and didn't think he would be happy in another profession. Rob Balca chose a vocation over college prep, so if college didn't work out then he would have something to fall back on.

Travis Copen likes the hands on training that he gets in this class and says he hopes that he will be able to open a machine shop some day.

MARKETING EDUCATION

What is Marketing Education? It is a training program dealing with working at school and on job sights. Mr. Wait was the teacher. Darren McGlaughlin, senior president, said, "It's an interesting vocation with many opportunities."

Jim Price, senior vice-president, said that he learned a great deal in the class.

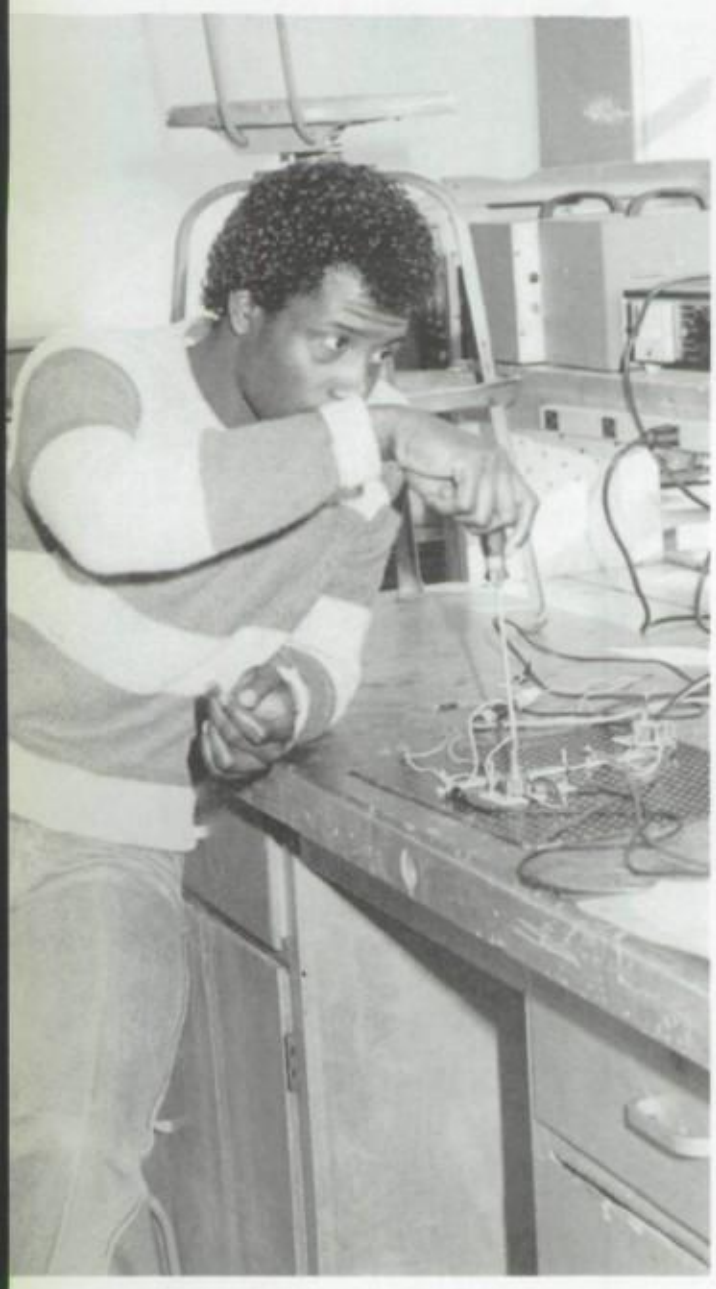
Electronics

The Garfield Electronics vocation was busy last year, but they managed to get a few comments on the class.

Mike Brazile thought the class gave him better relations with people. Freddie Smith said that they tested equipment and did odd jobs for teachers. He also replied that the class made him learn to work with people.

Dennis Goss thought the class was good, but a few people ruined it for everyone else. Tom Csora took Electronics because he thought it was the best vocation at GHS.

The senior Electronics Class welcomed new teacher, Mr. Broome. Mr. Macak teaches the juniors the nuts and bolts of Electronics.



SENIOR BUSINESS GRAPHICS

Garfield's Business Graphics class is a very enthusiastic and talented group of students. They have a club that is involved in many school activities, such as collecting $20.00 and 36 cans for the O.W.E. food drive. They print such things as committee projects, Homecoming tickets, and basketball tournament posters.

Chris Gross said some of the reasons why she liked the class so well was because it was exciting. Jeff McCall thought it was a nice experience.

Eric Mims said, "I can use the knowledge that I learned here to get a good job." Matt Taylor said Business Graphics was challenging. The class was taught by Mr. Wroe.

DATA PROCESSING

The Data Processing classes were composed of a group of very talented people. When various students were asked about the class and their plans after school, there came many replies. Troy Rankin liked working on computers and thought it to be the job of the future.

Tim Mosley was his class's vice-president and had a very distinct interest in his field of work. Brenda Groves planned on getting a job after school. Tony Ferguson liked working with the software and thought it would be a great start to his career.

Deon Cole was interested in Data Processing because of the great deal of money she can make. Dawn Duff thought the class was interesting and liked working at their own pace.

Junior Data Processing was taught by Mrs. Seibel and Mrs. Dukarich lead the seniors.

LEGAL-MEDICAL

In the Legal-Medical Vocation, students learned shorthand, typing, office procedures, computers, and much, much, more.

Mrs. Maggio, The Legal-Medical teacher, enjoyed teaching the class because most of the students were interested in the field.

We asked some of the students what their opinions of the class were. Tonya Yaworsky said that she liked the class because she knew that she was learning. She also knew that she would have a good job in the future. Tina Walton said that she didn't like the shorthand tapes; in fact, Tina said that it was the worst part of the day.

Shannon Marshall commented that the vocation gave her a lot of experience in office work. "They train you well." Shalonda Swain said this about her job in Mrs. Szoke's class, "It's hard work, but it's worth it!" Other seniors shared this opinion and said, "Mrs. Szoke was a great teacher."

Junior Business Graphics

Mrs. March, junior teacher, worked one on one with students on the MacIntosh printing system this year. Also stressed was printing, lettering, and layout jobs.

Maria Rosado enjoys the class because it's "educational and rewarding." MorRondo Roberts hopes to get a job after high school doing something in Business Graphics, so he can pay his way through college.

COOPERATIVE OFFICE EDUCATION

This year's Cooperative Office Education class, taught by Mrs. Hrkman, was a program where students go to school a half day and work the other half. People were chosen by filling out applications and submitting a resume. The people who were the best qualified were chosen.

Dorothy Dotson thinks COE is a good experience. She said that she got to see what it was like to do real office work. She also stated that you couldn't miss too many days because there was work to be done and if you weren't there, you could get kicked out. She said, "COE really does help people find jobs."

CLERK TYPIST

This year's Clerk Typist class was taught by Mrs. Fenner. Many different girls were asked about their class and they all had different opinions. Monica Mathis chose Clerk Typist because it offered many skills and was a nice learning experience.

Kathy Yergin thought it was interesting and would be a nice change from every day school work. Tangi Thompson enjoys typing and doing secretarial work. Lori Phillips plans to get a job after graduation.

Anitra Smith would like to put her skills to work in a department store. Latonya McGill said Clerk Typist was a very fun class, but "very difficult."

INSURANCE-ACCOUNT CLERK

Mrs. Schaffer is the teacher of the junior Account Clerk class where students learn to file, to type, and to do other secretarial skills, along with a strong emphasis on accounting. Denise Townsend picked Account Clerk because she liked working with numbers and she liked working an office-type atmosphere.

Inez Christopher feels like she's getting the needed skills to further her career goals. Purvies Taylor plans to go to college and become an accountant. Maurice Patterson liked learning how to use the different machines.

Christi Boal said, "The hardest thing to learn was Accounting . . . working with debits and credits."

Mrs. Hengstenberger teaches the Senior Account Clerk. Mike Popiel said, "It's been a learning experience."

COOPERATIVE HOME-ECONOMICS

Cooperative Home Economics is a class where students learn to work together, according to Shawntess Williams, who says, "It will help me judge better food qualities."

To go into this vocation, one must fill out an application and it's for juniors and seniors who are interested in food related careers. The class is taught by Mrs. Diane Zupke-Kossuth and students go out and work on job sites.

The class is mostly about preparing foods and the students placed second in a Teen Cuisine contest this year.

Annie Thompson says, "CHE teaches you how to be prepared for the working world."

Occupational Work Exp.

O.W.E. (Occupational Work Experience), taught by Mr. Shay, teaches you how to find jobs. It also explains the correct way to go about getting them. Students study, work, and fill out income taxes. It gives students the chance to earn money while getting an education. The class gives you experience in looking for jobs. To be chosen for the course, you sign up on your own, according to April Burton, O.W.E. student. O.W.A., a similar program which is taught by Mr. Ullery, starts with freshmen students.

O.W.A. Gets An Early Start

Auto Body

This past year's Auto Body class, taught by Mr. Limp, was hardworking. The students learned how to repair cars, do body work, and paint. Tom Gosorn decided to take Auto Body because he loves cars and plans on opening his own business some day. Dave Robinson wanted to learn body work and painting. His goal was to learn the most he could.

Todd West took Auto Body because he liked to work on cars and plans on going into servicing cars. Jeff Shreffler thought it was an interesting field and wants a job in a body shop. Good Luck, Garfield Auto Body.

Le Connection . . . Garfield French Club

The French Club has had a very exciting year. The trip to France has been delayed until next year. The club will be touring France with Mrs. Kirksey and Mrs. Valis during the 100th year of the Eiffel Tower and the 200th year of the French Revolution. It will be a great trip. They are going to visit the French Riviera and the Alps. Bonne Vacances!

Also, the Cultural Evening was scheduled for the end of April. There was art and music of foreign countries. The French Club and Spanish Club are also planning a picnic for some time in June.

Animal Crackers—Custodian and Kitchen Staff

Cafeteria Staff. Front: S. Wilson, D. Piatt, S. Perich. Second Row: M. Fowler, N. Ross, M. Kyle, V. Buchanan, R. Briston.

The custodian and kitchen staffs were busy last year. Mary Fowler, cafeteria manager, told us the kitchen staff saw that the food was prepared on time and said that the roast beef was the "most unappetizing."

William Donnette, head custodian, said, "I hate vandalism the most."

B. Donnette, N. Hill, J. Dyer.

Will Love Last? One of the most valuable lessons we can learn from life is this: That, try as we might, we will never have all the answers.

We can wonder for the rest of our days whether we are doing the right thing . . . continuing in the best relationship and following the best paths towards tomorrow, but no one is ever going to answer those questions for us . . . We both may have wonderings of what to do and curiosities of what's to come. Time will help us with the results, but more than any one thing, it's up to us—and to the love we have for each other—to go in the right direction.

You and I sometimes wonder about where we're headed and whether our love will last a lifetime through. We may not know the answer, but I'll tell you one thing I do know: There's no one I'd rather spend forever with . . . than you. Congratulations—Julie Robinson on your graduation. I hope all your dreams come true!!! I love you!!

CONGRATULATIONS
BECKY GREEN
1988 RAMPAGE EDITOR

What didn't you know, or who didn't you know? I hope you'll find it BEHIND THE SCENES.

I was sure the day would NEVER come when there would be no more deadlines to meet. But, WE DID IT! Many of you have no idea how hard it is to put together a yearbook. Without Mrs. Asente, adviser, or Cathy Ulle, our representative from our publishing company, it could never have happened. Without Greg and Drew's pictures you'd be looking at blank pages. They are just two of the very important people at Carmen Studios who make our yearbook possible. The staff did an excellent job and I thank you all for making it great. They worked tirelessly and not many of you even know who they are.

I would like to wish all the seniors the best of luck. The road ahead has many paths. I hope each and every one of you takes the right one for yourself.

Take care and God Bless,
Becky Green

1988 Rampage Editor

P.S. I'd like to thank all my teachers for making my senior year one I'll never forget. Mr. Fitch, you are great! Mr. Caruso, for the 25 years of service that you have put into this school, I dedicate this yearbook to you.
